

THE LIQUOR BILL.

The proposed "Act to regulate the Sale of Spirituous Liquors," which is now on its second reading in the Assembly, and which, it is thought by those who profess to be acquainted with the tone and temper of the majority, will be passed,—is of so important a character that we herewith give a summary of its principal provisions.

Section 1. Repeals all former legislation on the subject of the sale of intoxicating drinks, including the prohibition to native Hawaiians.

2. Defines what are "spirituous liquors," viz.: "All liquor of an intoxicating nature," excepting perfumery, bona fide, and medicine.

3. Licenses not transferable.

4. Fine not exceeding $500 for manufacturing for sale any intoxicating drink, or imprisonment not exceeding two years. Distillation also forbidden, except to sugar mills duly licensed.

6 and 7. Pertaining to fines and forfeitures for illicit distillation.

8, 9, and 10. Wholesale licenses.

11 to 14. Retail licenses; and therein "His Majesty in Council may authorize the Minister of the Interior to grant and issue licenses for the vending of spirituous liquors at retail outside of the limits of the city of Honolulu."

16. Form of bond by licensee, much the same as at present.

24. "No holder of a license shall either in his house or any of the appurtenances thereto, supply any spirituous liquor to any person in a state of intoxication, under a penalty for each offense of any sum not less than fifty nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars. And if any such intoxicated person remain more than three hours on such premises, the holder of such license shall in each such case be liable to the same penalty."

25. Liquor debts not collectible.

26. Prohibits pawns or pledges for liquor.

28. Selling adulterated liquor fineable, &c.

29. Peddling liquors fineable.

30 to 33. Regulations and penalties as to illicit selling.

34 and 35. Re-enacts the "Civil Damages Act."

37. Intoxicated persons liable to arrest and a fine of $10 for entering a liquor saloon, or not going out when ordered.

38. Persons found drinking on any licensed premises during prohibited hours or Sundays, liable to the same penalty as the keeper of the premises.

39. This Act shall take effect and become Law on the 1st day of September next.

The following are extracts from an editorial in a recent number of the S. F. Bulletin on "Blaine's American Policy," as set forth in his letter to Gen. Comly, to which allusion has been made in all the papers of this city.

"The lack of color in the foreign policy of the present Administration is more marked in contrast with the fervid Americanism which pervades all of Mr. Blaine's State papers. In none of these is his comprehensive American policy more distinctly stated than in the letter to the American Minister to the Hawaiian Islands, just published. Mr. Blaine does not enter into a dollar-and-cent discussion as to the results of the reciprocity treaty between the United States and the Islands, but estimates the value of the treaty from a much higher standpoint. The Islands are, in a broad sense, a part of the American system. They occupy the same position to the Pacific Coast which Cuba does to the Atlantic. Thirty years ago Mr. Everett, then Secretary of State, addressed a note to the British and French Ministers, in which he declined to enter into the tripartite alliance which had been suggested in regard to Cuba. Mr. Blaine makes this note a precedent for a similar policy in regard to the Hawaiian Islands. . . .

Mr. Blaine's grasp of the American system is comprehensive, but not in the least unreasonable. If Mr. Everett could write as he did in 1852 about Cuba, Mr. Blaine, thirty years later, should be equally able to maintain a like position about the Hawaiian Islands. The questions are so nearly parallel that if the letter of Mr. Everett is approved and the letter of Mr. Blaine condemned, the cause for these two conflicting verdicts must be looked for in the changed tone of the American people. We do not believe, however, that the people are less positive in national sentiment now than in 1852. The change, if one has taken place, is in the character of the two Administrations. At the expiration of President Arthur's term the foreign policy he has adopted will come up for consideration. If the people approve it, there will then be some ground for the assumption that the national sentiment of the present day is less positive than that of thirty years ago."

LEGISLATIVE.

Friday, July 28.—Mr. Kalua offered a resolution inserting in the Appropriation Bill the sum of $5000 in aid of the funds of Punahou College, and supported the proposition in a vigorous speech.

Mr. Isenberg moved to reject, on the ground that all other independent schools would be entitled to similar aid. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Education.

The Committee on Public Health reported on a petition from Honolulu respecting the keeping of stables within the city limits, recommending that the same be referred to the President of the Board of Health. Adopted.

Mr. Kaulukou moved that the consideration of the Appropriation Bill, which would come up as unfinished business, be deferred to another day, on account of the absence of the Minister of the Interior, who was confined at home, unwell. The motion was negatived, and the reading of the Bill was proceeded with. The item in the Department of the Interior were read and passed without alteration, up to about two-thirds of that division, when, the hour of noon having arrived, the Assembly took a recess.

The afternoon session was occupied with reading and passing the items in the Appropriation Bill, with occasional debates. It seems odd to have to report that, although so munificent in giving money for objects of questionable utility, yet the majority struck out the item for a lighthouse on the coast of South Kona, and also one for the harbor of Nawiliwili, Kauai.

A number of items were increased, as follows: Salary of Postmaster General, from $7000 to $8000; Roads in Koolauloa, from $5000 to $7000; Government Physicians, from $30000 to $50000; to furnish and finish palace, from $30000 to $47500; Salary of Marshal, from $7000 to $8000. New items—Custom House at Hilo, $15000; Feather Cloak, $1200; Portraits of Lunailo and Kekauloiki, $200; Chinese Translator, $4000; Auditor Public Accounts, $10000; subsidy for steamer, semi-monthly circuit of Hawaii, $2000; aid to Hawaiian Agricultural Society, $5000.

THE Band will give a concert at Emma Square this afternoon commencing at 4:30 o'clock. Following is the programme:

Overture—Fra Diavolo Auber
Cavatina—Siege of Corinth Rossini
Duet—Troubadour Verdi
Selection—Boccaccio Suppe
Waltz—Naples Waldteufel
Polka—Leopoldine Paque

ROAD MAKING.—A gang of prisoners is at work on Beretania street, from Nuuanu to Fort, putting on another thick layer of broken stone. This will raise still higher the middle of the street, so that unless something is done to the now faint semblance of sidewalks remaining, these will become simply gutters. Ropes have been stretched across the street at the junctions of both Nuuanu and Fort, which indicate, in the daytime, that travel is interdicted. At the Fort street end, on Thursday night a lantern was hung, not as it should have been, on the center of the barrier rope, but on the fence by the footpath. The consequence was that there was an accident, but fortunately not a serious one. A horseman came galloping up Fort street and attempted to turn into Beretania. Of course, the horse came to a sudden stop at the rope, while the rider continued his journey several yards further on all fours, and polishing off his nose on the ground. After a little, he rose to his feet and anxiously enquired whether the horse was hurt? What is the good of a dim lantern on the sidewalk, as a means of informing drivers or riders of the existence of a rope across the street!

THE new clipper schooner Emma leaves for Waialua and Waianae every Monday; returning on Saturdays. Cabin accommodations A1.

967 bags sugar, 2,727 bags rice, 455 bags paddy, and 34 barrels molasses came to hand since last report.

THERE will be an exhibition of Miss Aylett's school this evening, at Music Hall, consisting of singing, recitations, &c., commencing at 8 o'clock.

A Union Praise Service, conducted by Mr. Hallenbeck, will be held at Kawaiahao Church to-morrow (Sunday) evening, at 7½ o'clock; consequently there will be no service at Fort street Church in the evening. Rev. A. O. Forbes will occupy the pulpit in the morning.

ALL singers who are willing to assist at the Union Services to be held at the Kawaiahao church on Sunday evening, will please meet for rehearsal at 5 o'clock this afternoon, at Kawaiahao Church.

THE steamer City of Sydney, due here next Monday morning, en route to San Francisco may possibly arrive over in time for orders to be executed and forwarded per return of steamer Suez due here on or about the 15th August.

HER Majesty Queen Emma left the city last evening on the steamer Kapiolani, to attend the luau given by Jules Richardson, Esq., at Waianae.

Mr. E. P. Adams will offer for sale this day at 12 o'clock noon, valuable pieces of land on Hawaii. See advertisement.

THE examination and exhibition exercises at the Fort street School yesterday are reported as being very excellent, which was to have been expected, for that school has always been in the front rank in the proficiency of its pupils, and the ability and faithfulness of its teachers.
